Here are the “rules of the road”:

1. Opportunities for participation include not only folks (adults or kids) participating with AC artists in the traditional mentor/mentee relationship... but also students who have paid to take classes at the Art Center.
2. We hope that participants offer at least one of their pieces of art for sale... and mentees are encouraged to offer lots more than one piece! This can be original wall art or 3D... matted, unframed original paintings... notecards/sets -prints or originals... bookmarks... etc. (Students who have paid to take classes at the Art Center may offer up to two pieces, suitably framed, for display on the wall, and their instructors are encouraged to hang at least one piece as well.)
3. Completing an Application Form is mandatory for mentors/mentees wishing to participate in the show. (One is attached here.) Students who have paid to take classes during the year need not fill out an application, however, they need to let the Art Center know for planning purposes.
4. For mentees under the age of 18, parental approval and support is a necessity. This should include attentiveness to scheduled mentor sessions, transportation, and adequate supplies/preparation.
5. It's necessary for all participants (or parents if under 18) to sign the “Photo Release” blank on the application form, allowing the Art Center to publish any photos taken of them or their work in conjunction with the program/show to appear in publicity releases to print or social media platforms.
6. Publicity for this show is crucial. In order to get as much press/social media coverage as possible, participants need to turn in all the required information by the deadline! (jpgs of their work, bios, headshots and completed applications) NOTE: Both mentors/teachers and students are equally responsible for getting this info together and submitted on time. It's a mutual project all the way around! This year, Monday, January 8, 2024 is the deadline for all publicity. You'll receive an e-mail re: exactly what we need and the e-mail address to send it to in plenty of time to meet the deadline!
7. Once again, there will not be a featured artist during the Mentor/Student Show. The entire front gallery is ours! Room for lots of exciting new work.

8. A Saturday afternoon opening reception (not the traditional Friday night cocktail hour!) will take place from 2-4pm this year on February 10, 2024.

9. There will be an 80/20 split on all work sold by Mentees/Students... with 20% commission being retained by the AC. (This is a great deal for “newbies”... and you need to be sure to tell them so! They can’t expect that kind of a split in a regular gallery agreement.) Students who have paid to take classes, along with their instructors, will receive 60% of their sales price, as is customary for all Art Center artists selling their work in the gallery.

10. All AC artists working with Mentees or Students are asked to utilize this opportunity not only to share their talent as an artist with others... but also to teach mentees/students something about the business of being a professional artist showing work in a gallery setting and greeting the public at a show opening. Framing, pricing, labeling, filling out inventory forms... following “gallery rules”... dressing up and acting right! It’s all part of the Mentor/Student Show curriculum.

Q&A:

1. Can I mentor/teach adults as well as kids? Yes.
2. More than one? Yes. Relatives? Yes.
3. Do kids have to be in the Estes Park school system? No.
4. Can I mentor somebody in a medium that I myself have not yet been juried into the Art Center to exhibit? Yes.
5. Can I participate in the show as a mentee/student? Yes, as long as you’ve been mentored by an AC artist in a media new to you. And if you are a student who paid to take a class, you may hang any medium studied in the show.
6. How many major pieces will be shown per mentee? As many as size/space allows. (Be sure to provide appropriate containers for loose, smaller items if called for.) Students who have paid to take classes at the Art Center may offer up to two pieces, suitably framed, for display on the wall, and their instructors are encouraged to hang at least one piece as well.
7. Can major work be marked “Not for Sale?” Yes.
8. How much time do I have to spend teaching each student? Up to you. Just remember to allow adequate time so that the student gets a good introduction to your medium.
9. What “publicity info” is called for? Check out the application form. You will receive an explanatory e-mail letting you exactly what is needed and where to send it, in plenty of time to meet the deadline. (Note: In the past we have had great coverage in the EP papers!)
10. Inventory sheets for the student’s work? Yes. The process of checking in your student’s work is exactly the same as when checking in your own.
11. The AC will assign each student an “artist number”... on their application form... once they have been approved. These numbers will be made available to students/mentees.... and to teachers/mentors... upon request. They will also be posted in the work room.
12. Mentors/teachers need to complete (or assist their mentee/student to complete) a 2024 Artist Inventory form with inventory numbers for each piece; utilize the title info tags for all major pieces to be displayed (yellow copy on the art and white copy to the blue folder); and enter the info (including where the art is located) on the check-in sheet for the hanging committee. (Also mention where smaller items being offered by the student can be found, as the hanging committee will be displaying those as well.)

13. Labels/price tags? Yes. Exactly as you do your own.
